A Journey Through God's Faithfulness!

When I received Jesus in December 1975, I had never seen a Bible in my entire life. A young American man asked me if I knew "the conditions that I had to meet" if I wanted to follow Jesus.

I told him that I didn't know of any such conditions. He then took out his Bible and pointed out a Scripture and asked me to read it aloud. This was the first time that my eyes had ever seen a Bible.

It was Luke 9:23, "And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me."

He said, "Jesus took up the cross when He was on His way to His death at Calvary. If you want to follow Jesus, you have to be prepared to die for Him every day. If you are not ready to die then you are not fit to live for Him."

We have to love Jesus more than we love life itself. Heaven has to be more real than earth. The eternal has to be more precious than the temporal.

The kind of Gospel that you get saved under is the kind of Gospel that decides your perspectives in life. For us, who come to Jesus out of Islam in Muslim countries, this often results in death. We have to love Jesus more than we love life itself. Heaven has to be more real than earth. The eternal has to be more precious than the temporal. That is the raw truth of the Gospel in that world. That is just the way it is.

So those were the conditions under which I came, with my life presented unto death, to my Lord Jesus.

Forty-one years later, I am still alive, but it is because of God's grace alone. His mercy, His goodness and His purposes carry me. Our lives are not our own, because we have been bought with a price, the precious blood of our Lord Jesus. We belong to Him and to Him alone!

There is an old Pentecostal song that I love. It's words carry special meaning and every word is real to me:

*"It's the Holy Ghost and Fire
That is keeping me alive
Jesus is keeping me alive!"*

Our lives are not our own, because we have been bought with a price, the precious blood of our Lord Jesus.

Prison & Persecution

Three days after I received Jesus, I was on the streets handing out tracts and telling people of what the Lord Jesus had done for me. As I was walking down a quiet part of the sidewalk without any people around me, I heard a clear audible voice behind me that said to me, "This is what you will do the rest of your life, I will take you all around the world and you will tell people about Jesus." I looked behind me, and there was no one. I realized that it must have been God speaking to me.

To cut a long story short, a few months later I was arrested for witnessing about Jesus Christ on the streets and put in prison. I was "detained until further orders" because I was a "subversive element engaged in anti-Islamic activities." This was a clause in the law normally used against suspected terrorists, which allowed the government to hold a people in prison without access to legal counsel for as long as they wished.

When I was put into prison I was told, "You will either come out of this prison as a Muslim or in a coffin." My only chance to come out of prison would be if I went back to Islam, or I would die in there. In prison, I met several innocent people who had been there under law for several years.

At that time, I was prepared to die. I had left home at 13, and had lived a very difficult life. I felt like I had lived and died many times. Now, I had met Jesus and had received a new life. I just wanted to get over with it and go to Heaven. So, I made it clear that I would never go back to Islam, and that they could do with me whatever they wished.

As I was prepared to die, I kept on remembering that voice that had spoken to me so clearly. It came back to me again and again... "This is what you will do the rest of your life. I will take you all around the world, and you will tell people about Jesus."

So I knew that no matter what my captors said I would not die, but I would live to preach the Gospel. Less than 12 months later I was suddenly released from prison. I still stood by my word that I would never go back to Islam.

I realized that no matter what people said or did, no matter how great the persecution or the threats of man, the Word of God will always ultimately prevail. If we trust in Jesus and believe in His Word, God sees to it that His Word comes to pass in our lives. Even if the path to it's fulfilment is difficult and painful.

No matter what people said or did, no matter how great the persecution or the threats of man, the Word of God will always ultimately prevail.

I was arrested one more time for keeping a Bible. I was threatened with beheading by my own family. My own father felt like I had brought disgrace upon my family by leaving Islam and following Jesus, and that the only way in which my family's honour could be redeemed was by them killing me. So I had to escape my homeland, and suddenly found myself as a refugee.

The price has been great, but God's grace and blessings have been far greater!

It has been a long journey. I lived in Belgium, in Sweden, and now live in the United States. It has been tough, but with every trial there has been victory. The price has been great, but God's grace and blessings have been far greater. As I look back I have no regrets. I am the happiest man on earth. As I look at my wife Britta, our children and our granddaughter, I realize how blessed I am, and that I have received far more than I could have ever deserved in this life.

As I write these lines, I have been all over the world and have preached the Gospel for 40 years in 75 countries, and I have seen millions of people come to Jesus. The Word that the Lord spoke has come to pass and continues to be fulfilled again and again!

Hold on to Jesus! No matter what happens, hold on to His Word and never compromise!

Remember that once God speaks a Word into your life, He intends to keep it and to fulfill it. If He has called you, He will somehow always make a way. Hold on to Jesus! No matter what happens, hold on to His Word and never compromise! We are destined to win because our Lord Jesus has conquered death and has overcome the devil and the world. Glory be to His Name forevermore!
